1. PURPOSE:

The purpose of the approved school regulations is to provide a clear set of rules for surfing activity on English beaches. The scheme is to ensure that a coach's action is at all times safe, successful and appropriate for the surfers being instructed / coached.

RISK ASSESSMENTS & ASSESSMENT REVIEWS

The school needs to provide the Surfing England with a copy of your yearly risk assessments. If there are any doubts about how to conduct a risk assessment please visit the Surfing England website or contact Surfing England office. Any risk assessment reviews that are to be conducted as routine through the season will ordinarily be recorded in the daily entries in the surf school's beach log book. Any pre-season, mid-season or post-season risk assessment reviews must be copied and sent to Surfing England office after the risk assessment review has taken place. A generic Risk Assessment template can be found on Surfing England website. This is to be adjusted where applicable, signed and sent to your liaison officer at the start of each year's operations.

ii. THE NORMAL OPERATING PROCEDURES

Novice (beginner& low-ability improver) groups

The 1:8 coach / surfer ratio will be the maximum ratio operated. Also conditions for this ratio must be "appropriate" and risks assessed as "tolerable" for the group.

A reduced coach /pupil maximum ratio is recommended for changing group conditions e.g. smaller children, more severe surfing conditions such as: crowded breaks; bigger surf; lateral rips (long shore drift); strong winds etc.

Any Level 1 coach under the age of 18 must always work under the supervision of a Level 2 or higher or experienced coach.

For non-novice groups the following NOP's and teaching ratios will apply:

- All non-novice groups are screened for upper improver and intermediate surfing ability for the appropriate learning outcomes of the session at any ability level.
- The upper level improver /intermediate coaching will have a maximum teaching ratio of 1:5 with all coaches qualified to a minimum Surfing England Level 2 or ISA Level 2
- The recommended teaching ratio for advanced groups is 1:4.
- All non-novice group surfing conditions will be routinely risk assessed and RA-reviewed for tolerability evaluation – particularly for changing surfing conditions during the lesson
 - There will be clear ability level separation of groups when skill level development takes place within a lesson and / or with a programme of multiple lessons.

If there is a group of mixed-ability surfers and one instructor is out-the-back with the more competent surfers, improver novices or other higher abilities in deeper water more than chest depth, then the less able group of beginners still in shallow water will be considered another group. With mixed-ability groups, no group must be operated at more than the allowed ratio and each group must have its own designated rescue-demo board.

- Coaches will not free surf during surfing lessons. However it is understood that for some of the time coaches will be required to demonstrate the expected "outcome" of a lesson objective. This demonstration is referred to as a coach's demonstration.

- A daily Duty Log & Surf School Coaches liaison will be part of the school's NOP's. Such liaison should include accurate information about learning outcomes for the surfing lesson and the number of students in the lesson.

iii. THE EMERGENCY ACTION PLANS

A lifeguarded beach is highly recommended for a surf school's lessons. All lifeguards' advice must be heeded, particularly when a beach or beach area is red flagged: There are no exceptions to this rule.

Any schools emergency action plan must be operated in liaison with duty beach lifeguard service (if applicable) -If a beach to be used has an authorised beach lifeguard (BLG) service for that beach - and during the period of a school's NOP's - then the coach must liaise with the BLG on a session basis with regard to the safe conduct of each lesson.

- Surfing England must be notified of any major changes to an NOP / EAP / RA"s and a copy of the revised documents sent to Surfing England as soon as possible
- Any serious accident or incident at your school that requires First Aid (or other actions) must be followed by a formal (written) school "accident / incident report" and signed in triplicate by the person in charge of action and lesson and the student involved in the incident. For very serious accidents or incidents, a copy of all completed accident/incident reports to be sent to Surfing England Head Office as soon as possible after completion a copy should be retained by the school and a copy given to the student (usually within 72 hours of incident).
- A fully equipped appropriate First Aid kit to be available for EAP use as near as possible to water based NOP"s (under 200m)
- An efficient emergency telephone contact facility will be available at all times during surf school operations and within reasonable access by the entire group if lone working.

iv. FLAT-WATER CONDITIONS

Surfing England does not set a minimum wave size for a surf lesson to be conducted: This is a surf coach's "professional judgment" decision: i.e. it is to be made in relation to the ability & body size of the surfer. However Surfing England does set out minimum conditions for prone or, "stand-up" surfing to take place. Therefore for a surfing lesson to be provided:

- There will be enough force in the sea conditions to propel a surfer and surfboard forward
- There will be enough time, for a reasonable effort to be made by the surfer, to stand up and ride the wave with control.
- Any other (alternative) water activity to be conducted when the surf is flat cannot be referred to as an Surfing England Approved surfing lesson.
- Alternative flat-water activities can be used as a form of cross-training or part Surfing England lesson.

8. THE SURFING EQUIPMENT REQUIRED

- Soft construction surfboards soft deck and bottom with "rubberized / plastic" fins must be used for absolute beginners and „low ability" improvers
- Appropriate leashes in good working order without cuts, abrasions & knots
- Appropriate full (steamer) wetsuits in good repair and designed for the time of year lessons are being conducted
- Neoprene accessories (i.e. hoods, boots, gloves etc) to be available for customers who may require them due to sea & wind temperatures or medical reactions.

- A designated rescue board for each group, to be kept on the beach as near as possible to water NOP"s (under 200m) NB: A rescue board will be a minimum length of 8ft and minimum width of 22 "

Additional safety equipment

- A fully-equipped appropriate First Aid" kit to be kept on beach for immediate use as near as possible to water NOP"s (under 200m + see EAP requirements below)
- Warning whistles for use by duty coaches or arrangements for equivalent means of clear audio & visual signals for safety communication.
- Surf instructor and customer identity vests / suits designed to retain safe and clear visual communication between instructors and their surfers. Surfers from each group should all be wearing brightly coloured vests. It is essential that the surfers and their coach/instructor be in different colours as this clearly identifies the designated coach/leader of each group. All surfer & coach ID must be in a high visibility colour it is also recommended that the instructor ID be printed with words INSTRUCTOR or SURF COACH.

9. THE SURFING LOCATIONS & CONDITIONS REQUIRED

All beginner & improver surfing at both lower & higher ability will be conducted on beach break wave conditions. Such waves and wave peak will be clearly suitable for the surfers in the group. If the conditions are bigger than 1.5 metres then the lateral rips of the location will be a tolerable risk to the group, the individual coach must assess the conditions on each occasion

- Any lesson cancellation decisions caused by changing sea conditions will be made by the coaches/ instructors in charge of the lesson on the day, not by centre managers or surf school owners.
- Surf schools must abide by the lifeguard flags and co-operate with lifeguards on duty where applicable. No surf lesson will take place whilst a beach is red flag unless the BLG has provided a dedicated area for the surf school's activities.
- All beginner & novice improver surfing lessons will be conducted on safe, sandy, beach locations where waves are less than 1.5 metres and in surf conditions that are clearly safe and tolerable" for the group and individuals who will be surfing in the lesson. No matter what the average size of the actual waves on the day even if it is less than 1.5m the decision to operate a beginners & improvers lesson at the chosen location, will be decided by the strength & power of the prevailing surf conditions. These forces are conventionally referred to as:

- Swell (strength, direction, size)
- Tide (height & flooding / ebbing direction)
- Wind/air/sea (force, direction and temperature)

These forces will be assessed in addition to the other beach / coastline environment conditions of the geography and topography. These coastal environment features will determine whether a location is tolerable for surfing to take place. This size-force of wave qualification is particularly relevant to non-beginner lessons of all abilities. In addition to generic RA"s all surf locations and conditions are to be routinely reviewed for the tolerability of the risks and therefore the suitability of the surfing lessons conditions and locations. These must be clearly within the pupils physical and mental surfing capabilities.

10. THE ON-SITE VISIT

At least once per year, each English Surf School will be visited by a Surfing England representative. They will observe the normal operations of the surf school and also the delivery of a surf lesson

These visits will be an opportunity for surf schools to discuss with the Surfing England any concerns, issues, and queries, these could be related to a variety of topics including certification, Coaching practices, equipment, safety issues and so on. The Surfing England representative may ask to see the following documentation, so these should be available:

- Copies of your up-to-date incident report forms -Your daily NOP's log book
- A statement of your surfing programmes & alternative (flat-water) activities
- A statement of your customer refund policy & practices

Following the visit you will be issued with a report highlighting any concerns, suggestions and so on. If there are any issues which bring into question the approved level of the school, you will be given 30 days to respond and rectify these issues

11. WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

Appendix 3

English Surf School Disciplinary Procedure. Abbreviations: BSS: English Surf School, SURFING ENGLAND: Surfing England, CAO: Central Administration Office (SURFING ENGLAND), LOI: Liaison Officer/Inspector

All complaints about English Surf Schools must be made in writing to Surfing England. NB: A complaint and/or incident may refer either collectively to the school or to individual instructor(s)

1. The CAO is to ensure that these forms are completed as precise, concise, accurate complainant knowledge and understanding(s) of the incident / events.
2. The complaint/incident will be assessed for "respectability and relevance" by the CAO. A decision will be made whether these incident reports are plausible (or not) and if they require further action.
3. If the complaint/incident is deemed "plausible", there will be a request for a written submission about the incident(s) from the surf school and/or instructor in question.
4. If a BSS regulation has not been transgressed the CAO will write to both parties (school and complainant) to inform them of his/her findings.
5. If there has been a minor transgression the CAO will issue the surf school with a maximum of two written warnings.
6. If there has been a claim of a major transgression, or persistent repeating of minor transgressions, the CAO has the discretionary power to issue the offending school with a "temporary" suspension from the BSS list. Full suspension or re-instatement is subject to substantive and systematic evaluation of all incident evidence available.
7. A surf school has the right to appeal both warnings and suspensions. The CAO will deal with written warnings. A Surfing England "BSS disciplinary committee" will consider all suspensions.
8. The disciplinary committee will be made up of senior responsible coaches, and to include at least one member of the full-time Surfing England directorate. This meeting will include representatives of the surf school and dialogue discussion will take place to review a) the questions (BSS regulations) b) the claims (transgressions) c) the evidence (from surf school & Surfing England) c) the evaluations (discussion outcomes)
9. After such a meeting the disciplinary committee will have the powers to "fully" suspend the surf school, from the Surfing England BSS list for a period of time and if applicable, set the conditions for reinstatement on the list, for the surf school in question. There will be 1 of 4 possible options-outcomes:
 - i. Appeal is upheld, school is reinstated and LOI records removed from file
 - ii. Appeal is upheld and school is reinstated but LOI records retained 'on-file'
 - iii. Appeal is rejected and suspension is confirmed for rest of season/year

iv. Appeal is rejected and suspension is permanent

10. In the cases of individual instructors / coaches, the disciplinary committee will have the powers to compel the coaches concerned to re-sit their coaching qualifications. The result of the re-sit will have a direct result on the status of the surf school.

11. If individual instructors are to be disciplined the ultimate sanction will be the loss of their "Surfing England surf coaching" accreditation. Or fall into the same options as point 10.
